

How TENK issues statements

If the person alleged of misconduct or the instigator of the allegation are unhappy with the outcome of the RCR process, they can request a statement from TENK within six months of the decision.

TENK requests responses from the parties involved and the organisation in question.

The person requesting a statement from TENK can comment on the responses.

In the statement TENK determines whether the RCR process has been carried out according to the guidelines, and whether an RCR violation has been committed.
TENK does not comment on the consequences of an RCR violation.
This statement is delivered to all the parties.
